if you have an interest in freemasonry you may have heard of rob morris or have seen his name on various documents books poems and songs from the mid 1800s but don t know much about him a place in the lodge sets forth new facts about his early life and relationships and presents a slice of his life via previously unpublished family letters sent while he was on the road it was a time of yellow fever civil war and manual farmwork and the detail in the letters and the old photographs here make the era almost tangible visit this not so distant past and see how morris helped masonry evolve from its origins to take part in the united states women s movement and become one of the world s largest fraternal organizations as he worked to standardize freemasonry and establish the order of the eastern star his efforts were not without controversy

an analysis of the emergence of a distinct political culture in the state of São Paulo Brazil during the first three decades of the twentieth century

Art Marsicano shares the inspiring story of his wife's five-year battle with ovarian cancer in this tribute to God, marriage, and the power of love. In her final years, she smiled more than she cried and reached out to help others when she was the one in trouble. While cancer may have destroyed her body, it did not destroy her mind, soul, or her essence. But as cancer took its toll, Art was forced to think about a life of living alone. One day, a verse of poetry fixed itself into his mind: "There's a place in my mind that so clearly I see, and when I go there I think of thee." There are mountains and rivers, and the wind blows free. Yet, I feel great sorrow for there is only me when Jean died. Art found comfort by relying on God's strength and thinking about the sunny days of the past, including four women that he wanted to reconnect with. Discovering that two of them had died, but one of the women, Mary, would find him by sending a condolence card in the mail. Soon, Art would discover that his life could still have magic and love.

Rarely will a book touch your heart like "A Place to Call Home" so. Sit back, put up your feet, and enjoy the Atlanta Journal and Constitution. Twenty years ago, Claire Maloney was the willful, pampered tomboyish daughter of the town's most respected family. But that didn't stop her from befriending Roan Sullivan, a fierce, motherless boy who lived in a rusted-out trailer amid junked cars. No one in Dandridge, Georgia, least of all Claire's family, could understand the bond between these two mavericks. But Roan and Claire belonged together until the dark afternoon when violence and terror overtook them, and Roan disappeared from Claire's life. Now, two decades later, Claire is adrift, and the Maloneys are still hoping the past can be buried under the rich southern soil. But Roan Sullivan is about to walk back into their lives, by turns tender and sexy, and heartbreakingly exuberant. "A Place to Call Home" is an enthralling journey between two hearts and a deliciously original novel from one of the most imaginative and appealing new voices in southern fiction. Praise for "A Place to Call Home": "A beautiful, believable love story." —Chicago Tribune; "Sheer storytelling virtuosity." —Ms. Magazine; "Few equals Richmond Times Dispatch's enchanting new novel." —Richmond Times Dispatch; "A beautiful love story of reunion." —The News & Observer, Raleigh, NC; "Stylishly written, filled with southern ease and humor." —Tampa Tribune

Essay from the year 2020 in the subject literature Asia language English abstract: This paper deals with four major short stories of Ruskin Bond where railway station is the setting and Bond attempts to build private relations in public atmosphere. I have not specifically dealt with space theory but certain concepts like Auge's idea of non-place, Tuan's meaning of existence and the relation between man and environment which were necessary while justifying the tendency of the author to transform the railway station into a private place for expressing his character's personal desires. The bond of human relationships emphasizes Bond's understanding of the human mentality, nature, thoughts, and behaviour. Bond's stories display human feelings like affection, care, kind-heartedness, insecurities, sorrow, and disgust. As his art is often referred to as autobiographical, his characters are real and we can find them in our neighbourhood. The incomparable way in which he alters the unexciting, dull things in our everyday life into something really striking and interesting fascinates not only the common reader but also the literary world. Travelling and communication with masses is equally important for humanity which makes one socially upgraded and sometimes may give birth to inventive artists like Ruskin Bond.
